

Case Study #1

Young man, recently diagnosed, struggling with motivation

Nicholas: 20-Year-Old Man

- Diagnosed with schizophrenia 2 years ago at age 18
- Showed signs of cognitive impairment in high school
- Treated with 2nd-generation antipsychotic
 - Positive symptoms reduced
 - But, experienced weight gain and metabolic effects
 - Switched to weight-neutral antipsychotic

- Still experiences cognitive impairment and negative symptoms
 - Struggles with lack of motivation
 - Indecisive about whether to go to college, trade school, join the military, or try to get a job
 - But no track record of holding down a job for >6 months.